Global Manager Commentary

Expectations over major central bank policy normalisation remains the main driver of returns at this time, the US federal reserve has brought forward its timeline of policy normalisation, causing bond yield to rise significantly, leading to a monthly return of (0.8%) for the asset class, and slowing the pace of global equity market recovery, although the S&P 500 once again reached new highs in June. Global residential property markets have been booming in the post pandemic era in almost all developed markets, diversified property indices allocate little to residential investment property and thus the asset class returned a mere 1.0% over the month.

Investment Objective & Strategy

Deliver a return equal to or greater than CPI + 6% p.a. over rolling five year periods while keeping the portfolio standard deviation below 12%. Over any rolling three year period the portfolio should always deliver a positive return. The Portfolio is a Multi-Manager solution and will comprise at least two underlying funds and ideally a maximum of six underlying funds. Fund selection will be biased towards funds that have high Sortino Ratios, low downside expectations and have been managed through significant negative equity market conditions. The portfolio will invest in funds that allow the manager to make as many of the asset allocation decisions as possible. Manager selection will balance momentum and value management styles.
